AB&R's Support Team Strategy

The goal of AB&R's Support Team Strategy is to ensure customer success by teaming each Regional Account Manager (RAM) with a group of support specialists within each region. While the RAM maintains the lead responsibility, these additional team members enhance their ability to manage your specific concerns and needs.

Your Inside Sales Executive (ISE) is the internal resource for continued project planning, follow-up and support issues. The ISE works closely with the RAM and is well versed in the details of your account.

Your Customer Service Representative is the one to call for any administrative questions regarding billing, order processing and shipping.

Your Service Coordinator is the point of contact for all software support, warranty and service agreements.

Your Media Specialist is the person to contact for all your printing supplies, labels, tags and custom print requests.

Your Technical Support & Service contact is ready to help with any trouble-shooting, technical support, repair work and maintenance.

Your Solutions Architect is ready to assist you with any integration and configuration issues that may arise.
